Glossary

Terminology	Definition
Cultural Heritage	This term is the SEA Directive Topic Cultural Heritage, including architectural and archaeological heritage.
Cultural Asset/ Cultural environment	This term refers to arts, music, literature, sport and heritage.
Ecosystem Resilience	The capacity of ecosystems to deal with disturbances, either by resisting them, recovering from them, or adapting to them, whilst retaining their ability to deliver services and benefits now and in the future.
Historic Asset	The historic environment is made up of individual historic features which are collectively known as historic assets. Examples of what can constitute an historic asset are as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Listed buildings and conservation areas; • Historic assets of special local interest; • Historic parks and gardens; • Townscapes; • Historic Landscapes; • World Heritage Sites; and • Archaeological remains (including scheduled monuments and marine archaeology).
Innovation Active	The UK definition of innovation follows the EU-wide definition adopted by Eurostat. This definition of 'innovation active' includes any of the activities described below that enterprises were engaged in during the survey period: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Introduction of a new or significantly improved product (good or service) or process; 2. Engagement in innovation projects not yet complete or abandoned; 3. New and significantly improved forms of organisation, business structures or practices and marketing concepts or strategies; and 4. Investment activities in areas such as internal research and development, training, acquisition of external knowledge or machinery and equipment linked to innovation activities. The definition excludes expenditure and activities linked to innovation. For the purpose of the UK Innovation Survey and in line with the European-wide Community Innovation Survey, a business that had engaged in any of the activities described in points 1 to 3 above is defined as being 'innovation active'. For the purpose of this report, a business that has engaged in any of the activities described in points 1 to 4 above is defined as a 'broader innovator'. Also, businesses classed as a 'wider innovator' are those that have engaged in the activity described in point 3 above.
Natural Resource	Defined in section 2 of the Environment (Wales) Act 2016; this includes but is not limited to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • animals, plants and other organisms; • air, water and soil;

Sustainable
Management of Natural Resources

As defined in section 3 of the Environment (Wales) Act 2017:

(1) In this Part, “sustainable management of natural resources” means—

- (a) using natural resources in a way and at a rate that promotes achievement of the objective in subsection (2),
- (b) taking other action that promotes achievement of that objective, and
- (c) not taking action that hinders achievement of that objective.

(2) The objective is to maintain and enhance the resilience of ecosystems and the benefits they provide and, in so doing—

- (a) meet the needs of present generations of people without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their needs, and
 - (b) contribute to the achievement of the well-being goals in section 4 of the Well-being of Future Generations (Wales) Act 2015 (anaw 2).

Table A-2 summarises the outcomes of the review of International, European, UK and National plans, policies and environmental protection objectives. This identified key themes and the implications for the ISA and the NTDP illustrating how these link to the development of the ISA framework.

The Well-being of Future Generations (Wales) Act 2015 that are applicable to the themes relevant to the ISA have also been included within Table 1-2. The goals are listed below:

1. A prosperous Wales
2. A resilient Wales
3. A healthier Wales
4. A more equal Wales
5. A Wales of cohesive communities
6. A Wales of vibrant culture and thriving Welsh language
7. A globally responsible Wales

The NTDP should maximise the ability of Wales' natural habitats to absorb pollutants and improve air quality. The plans, programmes and environmental protection objectives seek to improve air quality through low carbon initiatives and policies, Plans, programmes and environmental protection objectives that prioritise economic development without consideration of ecosystems services, may conflict with this theme. This is as an increase in built development or transport infrastructure could threaten the achievement of an improvement in, or the protection of, the natural environment. The NTDP should also consider if poor air	The ISA Framework should include objectives that seek to improve air quality and health through a range of potential opportunities such as transport, housing, economic development and improvements to the natural environment and ecosystems services. The NTDP should seek to promote and enhance sustainable transport modes, including Active Travel and Public Transport, in order to dissuade the use of single occupancy vehicles. The NTDP should enhance and maintain sustainable connectivity between communities and across Wales, with the aim to reduce emissions and improve air quality. Patterns of mobility should be considered, in particular, if there are gendered or demographic differences associated with journey type, mode and journey time.	The ISA Framework should include objectives which seek to ensure the number single occupancy vehicle trips decreases and public transport and active travel patronage increases. The NTDP will need to ensure that transport in Wales facilitates economic independence of all women with all forms of unpaid and paid work recognised; facilitates the freedom of women to live their lives as they choose; challenges any existing power structures that may be disadvantaging women; is committed to equality of outcome for all women, men and non-binary people; places a gender perspective at the heart of decision-making; is open, transparent and welcomes scrutiny through a gender-lens; actively monitors progress towards equality; and leads by example for delivering equality.	The ISA will need to help ensure that a gender perspective is at the heart of all decision-making during the preparation of the NTDP. Appraisals through the ISA will provide scrutiny from a gender-lens and help to ensure equality of outcome for all men, women, and non-binary people. The ISA will help to ensure that key issues such as safety on public transport, in public toilets and when using services such as taxis are appropriately addressed in the NTDP. Section 6 of the Environment (Wales) Act 2016 introduces an enhanced biodiversity and resilience of ecosystems duties for public authorities in relation to the exercise of their functions. The emphasis of the duty is that the consideration of biodiversity and ecosystem are embedded in the early thinking of the development of the NTDP. The design of new transport infrastructure should retain and enhance biodiversity and habitats and the NTDP should reflect this, with no interventions resulting in a net loss of biodiversity. Capturing this duty as an integral part of the NTDP development process will be essential. The Plans, programmes and environmental protection objectives seek to conserve and protect biodiversity through international and national regulations or frameworks. Plans, programmes and environmental protection objectives that prioritise economic development without consideration of ecosystems resilience, may conflict with this theme. This is as an increase in built development or transport infrastructure could threaten the achievement of an improvement in, or the protection of, the natural environment.	The ISA Framework should include objectives that seek to conserve and enhance biodiversity, species and habitats as part of a wider aim to protect and enhance ecosystems services.	Biodiversity Flora and Fauna	6, 7, 8, 9 and 11
