4. Consultation Reponses

Net Zero Skills was discussed and how it links to project proposals for the forthcoming flood projects. Commissioners discussed the support required for skilled professionals to retrain; Jenifer Baxter and Nick Tune proposed writing a thought piece and the changing skills environment.

Commissioners discussed a recent meeting with the Welsh Governments energy team on the national grid. During the meeting NICW suggested the UK government is lobbied to create a subcommittee (under the Energy Security and Net Zero Committee) to specifically consider the National Grid and issues around connectivity and transmission.

Commissioners felt strongly that for future connectivity infrastructure underground lines should be the default.
