GLOSSARY

Term	Definition
Decibel (dB)	The decibel scale is used in relation to sound because it is a logarithmic rather than a linear scale. The decibel scale compares the level of a sound relative to another. The human ear can detect a wide range of sound pressures, typically between 20µPa and 200 Pa, so the logarithmic scale is used to quantify these levels using a more manageable range of values.
Sound Pressure Level (SPL or L_p)	The sound pressure level is the root mean squared (RMS) pressure of a sound at a specific point in space, expressed relative to the smallest sound pressure normally perceivable by the human ear, described as the 'reference pressure': 2×10^{-5} Pa. $L_p = 20 \log_{10} \left(\frac{p_{rms}}{2 \times 10^{-5}} \right)$ A level of 0dB indicates a level equal to the threshold of human hearing, and a level of 140dB represents the approximate threshold of pain.
A-Weighting	The human ear can detect a wide range of frequencies, between around 20Hz to 20kHz, but it is far more sensitive to certain frequencies than others. Generally, the ear is most sensitive to frequencies in the range 1 to 4 kHz. The A-weighting is a filter that can be applied to measured results at varying frequencies, to mimic the frequency response of the human ear, and therefore better represent the likely perceived loudness of the sound. Unweighted L_p readings are usually expressed in dB, whereas with A-weighting applied, levels are represented as dB(A) or subscripted with a descriptor, e.g. L_{pA}. Other frequency weightings also exist for other specific purposes.
$L_{eq, T}$	This represents the equivalent continuous level, which has the same integrated mean-squared sound pressure (i.e. total energy) as a sound that varies over the time period T.
L_{10} or L_{90} and other percentile measures	This represents the SPL which is exceeded 10% of the time, expressed in dB or dBA. L_{A10} is used to quantify road noise levels. L_{A90} is often used to evaluate the underlying 'background' noise levels at a location. Other percentiles are sometimes used for various types of noise assessment.
L_{max}, L_{min}	The maximum and minimum sound pressure level recorded during a measurement period respectively

Term	Definition
L_{night}	The annual average L _{Aeq,8h} measured in a free-field over the period 2300-0700hrs.
Time weighting constant, Fast (F) and Slow (S)	Constant value F = 0.125s, S = 1s. Used for weighting the instantaneous RMS sound pressure measured using a sound level meter. This is normally indicated in the subscript of a measurement metric, e.g. L _{AF90} , L _{ASmax} .
PPV	Peak particle velocity. The highest particle velocity measured during a given time interval. If measurements are made in all three axes the resultant combined PPV is the vector sum of the component velocities. Human response and building PPV criteria are often specified in terms of component PPV, which is the highest measured in any one axis.
NSR/OSR	Noise sensitive receptors / other sensitive receptors.

1 INTRODUCTION

1.1 Background

1.1.1 Parsons Brinkerhoff (PB) has been commissioned by the Welsh Government to undertake a noise survey at the A487 Caernarfon- Bontnewydd Bypass site in North Wales.

1.1.2 The purpose of this report is to inform the current noise climate at various measurement locations (MLs) in the area of the proposed site. This information will be used for comparison with the road noise model generated as part of the A487 Caernarfon-Bontnewydd Bypass EIA, and to evaluate noise limits for associated construction activities.

1.1.3 A noise survey was undertaken from the 22nd to 26th of June 2015 and from the 8th to 9th of September 2015 in accordance with the procedures set out in 'Calculation of Road Traffic Noise' (CRTN) [1], and BS 7445 [2], [3]. The survey included both attended short-term and unattended long-term measurements. This report details the methodology and approach of the noise survey, and presents a summary of the recorded noise data.

1.1.4 This report contains acoustic terminology. A glossary of terms is presented in Annex A.

1.2 Site Description

1.2.1 The site comprises a predominantly rural area to the south and east of Caernarfon. The existing A487 is a distributor road that runs through the centre of Caernarfon from the south and east. Other distributor roads include the A4086 and A4085 these enter the town from the east and south east respectively.

1.2.2 Figure 1 illustrates the location of the site and presents the nine measurement locations (MLs) used in the survey. The UK grid coordinates of the locations are presented in Table 1. See Annex B for more detailed figures.

1.3 Published Guidance

Calculation of Road Traffic Noise

- 1.3.2 CRTN [1], issued by the Department of Traffic Welsh Office, defines the methods used to predict and measure noise levels from road traffic in England and Wales.
- 1.3.3 The CRTN methods employ the statistical parameter $L_{A10,18hr}$ to assess noise impact from existing or proposed roads. L_{A10} is the A-weighted sound pressure level that is exceeded for 10% of the measurement period. The measured $L_{A10,18hr}$ defined in CRTN is the arithmetic mean of the eighteen one-hourly measurements representative of the daytime period.
- 1.3.4 CRTN also defines a 'shortened' method for measurement that can be used to derive an approximate 18-hour level. This method is generally applicable to roads with suitably high flows (i.e. the noise level remains relatively steady), and for the purposes of this survey this procedure has been used to characterise the noise levels of existing main roads in the area.

BS 7445 Description and Measurement of Environmental Noise

- 1.3.5 BS 7445 defines and prescribes best practice during the recording and reporting of environmental noise. Reference was made to this guidance throughout the surveys undertaken.

2 CONSULTATION2.1 Gwynedd Council

- 2.1.1 Prior to conducting the survey, Gwynedd Council Environmental Health Dept was consulted on the proposed methodology, which was summarised by email attachment (document ref. 3513874A-HHC dated 18th June 2015).

3 METHODOLOGY3.1 Noise Surveys

- 3.1.1 Measurements were made at eight locations, as shown in Annex B. Six locations were chosen in close proximity to existing main roads. A further three locations were chosen to represent residential areas that are relatively far from existing road traffic sources, but will be within relatively close proximity to the Scheme.
- 3.1.2 All measurements were made using Class 1 Integrating-Averaging Sound Level Meters (SLMs) as defined in BS EN 61672:2003 [4]. Calibration certificates for the instrumentation used in the survey are presented in Annex D. All SLMs were acoustic calibration-checked on-site prior to and on completion of every survey period, to ensure calibration drift had no significant effect on the recorded levels.
- 3.1.3 Measurements were made in the absence of precipitation. The wind direction from source to receiver was less than 2 m/s. For unattended measurements the weather conditions were verified using MET office data. A windshield was used to minimise the effects of wind-induced noise at the microphone. Details of specific microphone positioning are included on the noise survey forms in Annex C.
- 3.1.4 Subjective comments on the noise climate can be found in Annex C.

4 RESULTS

- 4.1.1 Table 2 and Table 3 present a summary of the survey results at the measurement locations. Further details of individual measurements are presented in Annex C.
- 4.1.2 The equivalent road traffic noise L_{10,18h} values in table 2 have been derived from the measurements in accordance with the CRTN method i.e. by subtracting 1dB from the arithmetic average of the three consecutive hourly L₁₀ values. These values were then normalised to a distance of 10m from the edge of each roads carriageway. Values in table 2 are the final calculated values.
- 4.1.3 The lowest typical ambient noise levels in table 3 have been derived from the measurements using statistical techniques: the energy-averaged levels have been calculated for each period (day/evening/night) and statistical values (mean and standard deviation) of the resulting levels extracted and compared to produce a probabilistic estimate of the lowest typical level.

GLOSSARY OF ACOUSTIC TERMINOLOGY

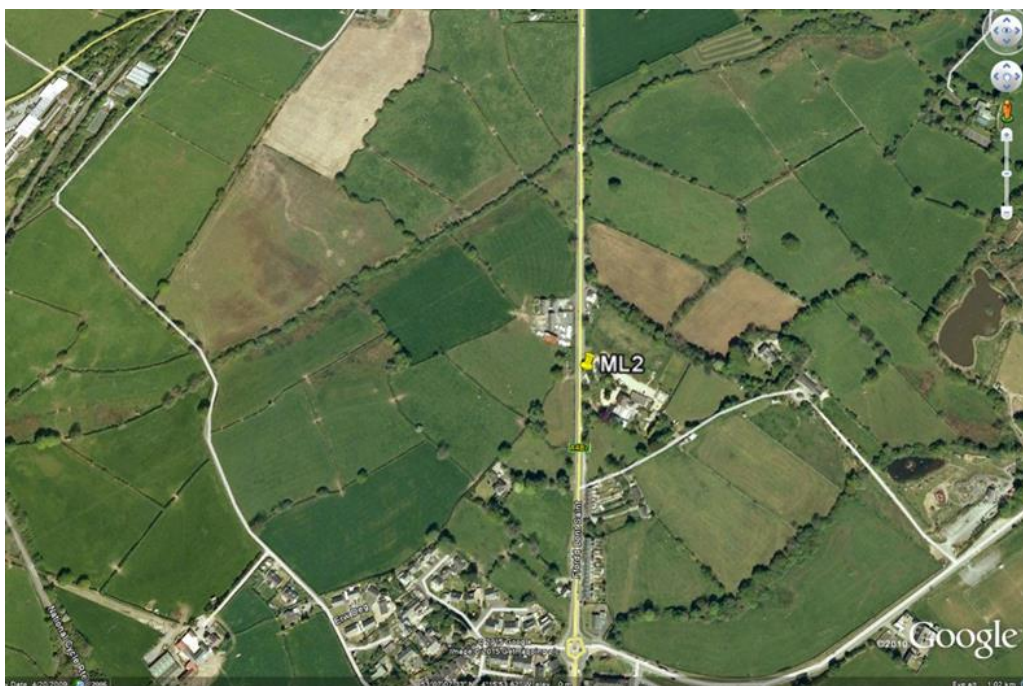

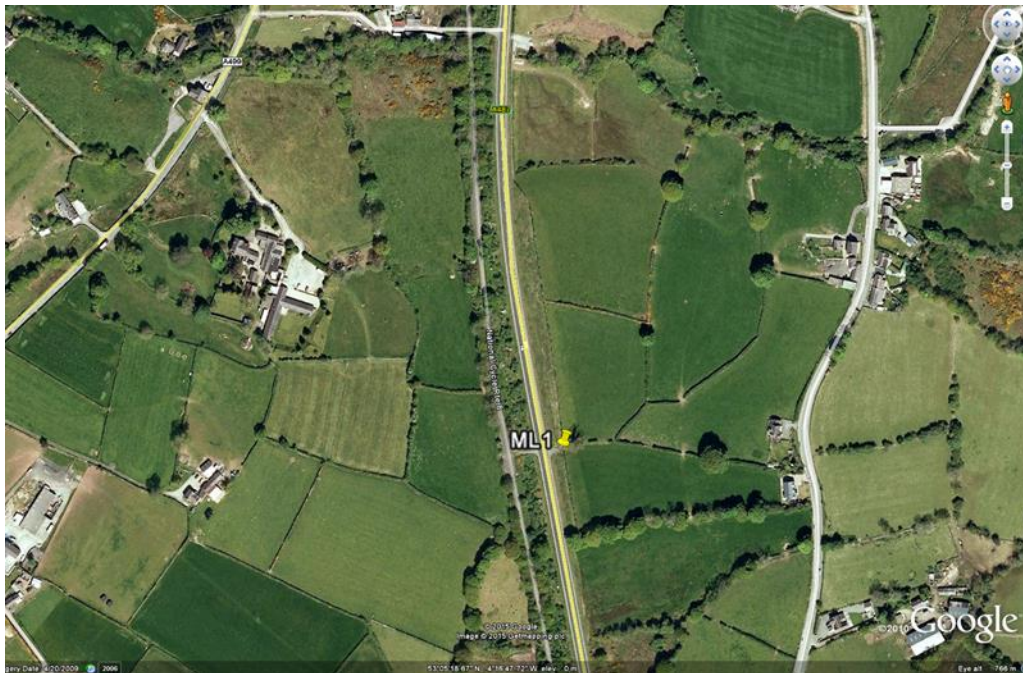

Glossary of Acoustics Terminology

Decibel (dB)	The decibel scale is used in relation to sound because it is a logarithmic rather than a linear scale. The decibel scale compares the level of a sound relative to another. The human ear can detect a wide range of sound pressures, typically between 2×10^{-5} and 200 Pa, so the logarithmic scale is used to quantify these levels using a more manageable range of values.
Sound Pressure Level (SPL)	The Sound Pressure Level has units of decibels, and compares the level of a sound to the smallest sound pressure generally perceptible by the human ear, or the reference pressure. It is defined as follows: $\text{SPL (dB)} = 20 \log_{10}(P/P_{\text{ref}}) \quad \text{where } P = \text{Sound Pressure (in Pa)}$ $P_{\text{ref}} = \text{Reference Pressure } 2 \times 10^{-5} \text{ Pa}$ An SPL of 0dB suggests the Sound Pressure is equal to the reference pressure. This is known as the threshold of hearing. An SPL of 140dB represents the threshold of pain.
A-Weighting	The human ear can detect a wide range of frequencies, from 20Hz to 20kHz, but it is more sensitive to some frequencies than others. Generally, the ear is most sensitive to frequencies in the range 1 to 4 kHz. The A-weighting is a filter that can be applied to measured results at varying frequencies, to mimic the frequency response of the human ear, and therefore better represent the likely perceived loudness of the sound. SPL readings with the A-weighting applied are represented in dB(A).
L ₁₀ or L _{A10} and other percentile measures	This represents the SPL which is exceeded 10% of the time, expressed in dB or dB(A). L _{A10} is used to quantify road noise levels. Other percentiles exist and are used for various types of noise assessment. These include L ₀₁ , L ₅₀ , L ₉₀ , L ₉₉ .
L _{Aeq,T}	The equivalent continuous sound level that contains equal energy with a time-varying signal level. It provides an 'average' sound level (in terms of energy) over a defined period of time (T).
Noise	A noise can be described as an unwanted sound. In some circumstances, noise can cause nuisance.
Noise Sensitive Receptors (NSR's)	Any identified receptor likely to be affected by noise. These are generally human receptors, which may include residential dwellings, work places, schools, hospitals, and other areas where extraneous noise is undesirable for normal use.

CONSTRUCTION VIBRATION IMPACTS

Assumptions:

Piling:

- Piling used is hydraulic impact with a hammer energy of 50kJ
- Pile toe Depth of 10m
- Piling driven to refusal (worst case of hard ground)

Rollers:

- 2 vibratory rollers used
- 0.4 mm amplitude and a drum width of 1.3 m (heavy duty ride-on roller)
- Rolling takes place throughout the scheme along areas of construction activity.
- Distances have been calculated from the edge of the road.

Impacted receptors have been assessed using a distance boundary calculated using the thresholds for vibration outlined in BS5228-2 for Piling and Rollers individually:

Impact Magnitude	Construction Vibration Component Peak Particle Velocity (mms^{-1})
High	≥ 10.0
Medium	≥ 1.0 and < 10.0
Low	≥ 0.3 and < 1.0

The summary of receptor impacts:

PPV, mms^{-1}	Impact	Number of receptors
≥ 0.3 and < 1.0	Minor	237
≥ 1.0 and < 10.0	Moderate	10
≥ 10.0	Major	0

Moderate vibration impacts at sensitive receptors:

ID	Chainage	Dominant Source	Receptor name and location
C6	1801-3400	Rollers	TYDDYN ELEN LODGE, A487(T) FROM PARC MURIAU TO BONTNEWYDD, CAERNARFON, GWYNEDD, LL55 2TY

C16	8401 - 9800	Rollers	TYDDYN HEN, 40 BETHEL ROAD, CAERNARFON, GWYNEDD, LL55 1UH (CONSTRUCTION IMPACT ONLY)
C17	8401 - 9800	Rollers	GORWEL, ROAD FROM GRIFFITHS CROSSING ROUNDABOUT TO PLAS MENAI, LLANFAIR IS GAER, GWYNEDD, LL55 1TS

C19	8401 - 9800	Rollers	CRUG FARM PLANTS, ROAD FROM BETHEL ROAD ROUNDABOUT TO JUNCTION NORTH OF CRUG FARM, LLANFAIR IS GAER, GWYNEDD, LL55 1TU
C21	1801-3400	Piling	BRYNTEG, ROAD FROM A487(T) PASSING DOL BEUNO AND GLANRAFON ESTATES TO PANT ROAD CAERNARFON, CAERNARFON, GWYNEDD, LL55 2UD

C23	1801-3400	Piling	CEFN WERTHYD FARM, ROAD FROM A487(T) PASSING DOL BEUNO AND GLANRAFON ESTATES TO PANT ROAD CAERNARFON, CAERNARFON, GWYNEDD, LL55 2UD
C24	1801-3400	Piling	TYWYN, ROAD FROM A487(T) PASSING DOL BEUNO AND GLANRAFON ESTATES TO PANT ROAD CAERNARFON, CAERNARFON, GWYNEDD, LL55 2UD

Mitigation could include alternative piling techniques such as press-in or reduced energy hammer piling. Roller vibration could be mitigated by reducing the number of vibratory rollers being used concurrently and reducing the overall size and power of the units.

Piling

Using hydraulic impact with hammer energy of 50kJ, the following levels have been calculated at the affected receptors:

ID	Structure	Distance to receptor (m)	Level (PPV, mms^{-1})
C8	S109	153	1.61
C21	S109	186	1.25
C22	S109	183	1.28
C23	S109	185	1.26
C24	S109	208	1.08

By reducing the hammer energy to below 19 kJ, vibration levels at affected properties will be reduced from moderate to minor:

ID	Structure	Distance to receptor (m)	Level (PPV, mms^{-1})
C8	S109	153	0.99
C21	S109	186	0.77
C22	S109	183	0.79
C23	S109	185	0.78
C24	S109	208	0.67

Measure more than one cycle/ event (ideally at least three)	×	N/A
Determine state of repair of any associated source, where relevant	×	N/A
Use a windshield and avoid windy conditions (i.e. gusts regularly exceeding 5 m/s)	✓	Yes
Avoid wet conditions (particularly in terms of rain on the windshield/mic and on neighbouring surfaces)	✓	Yes
Avoid electrical and electromagnetic interference (such as from power cables and radio transmitters)	✓	Yes
Avoid extreme temperatures – traffic conditions can be different in freezing conditions, whilst meters can overheat and fail in a case when in direct sunlight during the summer.	✓	Yes
Make measurements during different weather conditions (particularly relevant in terms of wind direction for sites affected by aircraft movements, but also for sites affected by other distant, but significant, sources of noise, in different directions)	✓	Yes
Where on one source is dominant (such as a main road), as a minimum, measure during conditions favourable to propagation (i.e. when wind direction is within +/-45° of the line between the source and receiver or during temperature inversion, such as on clear calm nights)	×	N/A
Avoid tree/leaf (movement) sound where possible – ideally take measurements the same distance from sources of such sound as any receptors of interest	✓	Yes
Avoid dawn chorus sound where possible – ideally take measurements the same distance from trees and bushes as any receptors of interest	✓	Yes
Measure outside the receptor in question where possible; however, it is worst case typically to measure under free-field conditions and apply +3 dB correction to convert to "façade" where applicable – for most planning (new residential development) assessments, free-field is preferable	×	N/A
Where it is not possible to install a meter outside the receptor in question, install a meter elsewhere and undertake additional attended measurements, either outside the receptor or at a representative location (when not adequately covered by the installed meter)	×	N/A
Avoid atypical traffic conditions (such as during school holidays and road works – road traffic incidents can significantly affect flows, but which can't be predicted and their occurrence can't always be established after the survey – check the data for anomalies)	✓	Yes, for CRTN surveys; ambient surveys conducted when possible

TABLE H.6-1: List of Uncertainty Control Measures	Applicable?	Adopted?/Comments
Measurement
Avoid presence of operator and/or the microphone resulting in atypical conditions (e.g. people stopping to talk, workers on site adjusting their way of working, etc.)	✓	Yes
Data handling
Download data immediately after survey and process promptly whilst details are fresh in your head	✓	Yes
Use digital transfer methods wherever possible, double check data read-off manually	✓	Yes
Look at the time-history (in as fine a resolution as possible) for any unexpected events	✓	Yes
If removing any data (due to an atypical event, for example), 'save as' a new file and provide a note to the data within the corresponding file	✓	Yes
Prediction
Use measurements at different heights to verify screening effects, where relevant	×	N/A
Use propagation calculation procedure relevant to source and distance	✓	Yes
Use detailed traffic flow data applicable to the assessment methodology	✓	Yes
Use detailed sound source data (including octave-bands levels), accounting for size, height and directivity, where known	×	N/A
Use detailed topographical data and base mapping	✓	Yes
Identify different ground types	✓	Yes
Apply an order of reflections of at least one	×	Generally no: CRTN correction and Façade reflections included
Predictions at ground floor may overestimate attenuations due to absorptive ground effects – first floor predictions often give more representative worst-case results	✓	Yes: predictions at first floor, and ground absorption = 0 in built-up areas
Use 3D view feature of the modelling software to check the accuracy of the model	✓	Yes
Produce contour plots as a further means of identifying any abnormalities or errors in the model	✓	Yes
All calculation models should undergo rigorous QA checking using a defined checklist relevant to the type of model	✓	Yes
