Just to confirm that our week one search reports have been added to the admin workspace. It would be great to get any reflections you might have on the candidates and the people we are approaching as both targets (potential candidates) and sources (people who may have recommendations).

Best wishes

Hi [Gatenbysanderson Official], thanks for this. Good to hear this.

I was thinking along similar lines yesterday when considering sharing the applicants list with you. I think it is worth setting up a shared folder on the site for your team and our team to share. I'll set that up this morning and include [Gatenbysanderson Official].

Hi both,

We have pulled together a report showing how things are looking from our search after our first week and I just wanted to check who you would like me to share that with and how.

I can either send directly or through the portal but I wasn't sure how widely you wanted the reports circulated ie just to you or to the full panel?

If you let me know I can share accordingly.

Interest is looking positive so far.
