

Our Data Promise

"No identifiable data about you will leave health and care without either your explicit consent or a legal requirement (such as for safeguarding).

Health and care services will routinely, appropriately and securely share your identifiable data within health and care, to deliver high quality, safe and integrated care."

