Section 40 (2)

September 2019

Wales was the first Parliament in the world to declare a climate emergency and subsequently since then we have agreed to increase our targets in response.

The First Minister met with members of Extinction Rebellion in July and I am pleased to hear we are working together at our forthcoming conference.

I am unable to attend the event, however I am looking forward to meeting with Extinction Rebellion on Wednesday. I am pleased a number of my colleagues are supporting this event and an official will also be attending.

I wish you well at the event.
