Section 1: Policies and Benefits

This section examines the policies and benefits the organisation has in place to support LGBT staff. The questions scrutinise the policy feedback process, policy content and provision of specific support.

1.1 Does the organisation have a process to ensure all employees can feedback on the inclusiveness of relevant policies (for example, HR policies)?

Guidance:

- This should be open to all employees and across all relevant policies.
- Relevant policies include HR policies, for example leave policies.
- If feedback does not trigger immediate reviews, there must be regular, periodic policy reviews that consider the feedback.

Yes

No

Describe the process, how it is communicated, and what action the feedback triggers (max. 500 words).

The Welsh Government adopts an inclusive approach to policy and guidance development and recognises that equality of opportunity must be embedded through all employment policies, processes, guidance and procedures, for example, recruitment, performance management and promotion. All of our HR policies include the line "If you have any feedback on the inclusivity of this policy, please email the Equality in the Workplace Team". Whenever we develop or revise our policies, guidance and relevant processes, we consider the impact on various groups of employees and prospective job applicants and take action where we believe they may produce a disproportionate or differential impact on any group. If differential impacts are revealed, we consider measures to remove or reduce negative impacts and maximise opportunities to promote equality. To help us do this, we engage with a diverse group of stakeholders across the organisation including our staff networks and work in partnership with the trade unions. We work in social partnership with our 3 recognised Trade Unions. All HR policies, processes and workforce related strategies are formally consulted on with our Trade Unions prior to introduction or substantive revision. Each Trade Union has a nominated Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Lead. In addition, we formally engage with our staff diversity networks, allowing them to not only feedback on any draft HR policies, processes, strategies etc, but to also input into the Equality Impact Assessments undertaken on them. Where we introduce substantial changes to policies or process that are likely to impact staff, we invite our staff networks to workshops where we introduce our suggested new policy/process, explain the rationale and networks have the opportunity to feedback their views. In addition all staff can provide feedback at any time to the policy owner (usually the HR Policy Team or HR Strategy, Organisational Development and Engagement Division), or the Equality in the Workplace Team if they feel that a policy is discriminatory or not inclusive. All feedback received this way is taken into account. Policies are usually reviewed on average around every 2 years, though this depends on workload and external influences such as a change in employment law. The HR Equality in the Workplace team also systematically checks that policies and processes are equality assured. When we are developing strategies that will have a fundamental impact on staff (e.g. our Workforce Equality, Diversity & Inclusion Strategy; Future Workforce, Workplace & Digital Strategies) we publish them on the intranet at an early stage giving all staff the opportunity to give their views. In addition, we have held Let's Talk events where all staff can (via Microsoft Teams) hear about such strategies from senior leaders, with the opportunity to both ask questions and give feedback.

(447 words)

1.2 A & B – E,D & I Policy – Pages 3 & 9

1.2 A & B – Dignity at Work Policy – Annex A Para 1.1

1.2 C, D & E – Dignity at Work Policy – Page 20

1.2 F – Dignity at Work Policy – Annexes B, F & G

Provide a brief description of the policy/policies you have uploaded (max. 200 words).

A. Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Policy Para 6.1 states “We will not tolerate unjust or unlawful discrimination on any basis, including on the basis of any protected characteristics. Disciplinary action may be taken against any employee who discriminates, bullies, victimises or carries out any form of harassment against another person (whether that person works in Welsh Government, is a customer or member of the public, or is an external business related contact) because of a protected characteristic.”

Para 1.4 “These characteristics are race¹, sex, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity², age, religion or belief (or lack of it), marriage, including same sex marriage and civil partnership, and pregnancy and maternity.

Dignity at Work Policy Annex A Para 1.1 states “The Welsh Government aims to provide a safe working environment free from bullying, harassment and intimidation. We recognise that bullying and harassment in the workplace by employees or external contacts is unacceptable behaviour. We adopt a zero tolerance policy in relation to harassment and bullying including sexual harassment and homophobic, bi-phobic or trans-phobic bullying and harassment.”

¹ Race may include different elements that often merge:

- Race – an umbrella term for the other four aspects
- Colour – like race it tends to overlap, particularly with the concepts of ‘ethnic origin’ and ‘national origin’.

Examples include black and white

- Ethnic origin – may include racial, religious and cultural factors which give a group a distinct social identity with a long and shared history. Examples include Sikhs, Jews, Romany Gypsies and Irish travellers
- National origin – birthplace, the geographical area and its history can be key factors. Examples include English and Welsh.
- Nationality – usually the recognised state of which the employee is a citizen. In other words what it says on their passport if they have one. For example, British citizen.

² Our policy and guidance treats ‘gender identity’ as a protected characteristic rather than ‘gender reassignment’ as the term used in the Equality Act 2010

B. Equality, Diversity & Inclusion Policy; Dignity at Work Policy – extracts as for A. above.

Transitioning Policy

C. Dignity at Work Policy Pages 19 & 20 “Examples of unacceptable behaviour may include: Homophobic, biphobic or transphobic bullying or harassment:

- Biphobic bullying or harassment could include telling someone that bisexuality doesn't exist or making comments about the gender of their partner

D. Dignity at Work Policy Pages 19 & 20 “Examples of unacceptable behaviour may include: Homophobic, biphobic or transphobic bullying or harassment:

- Homophobic bullying or harassment could include 'outing' someone without their permission

E. Dignity at Work Policy Pages 19 & 20 “Examples of unacceptable behaviour may include: Homophobic, biphobic or transphobic bullying or harassment:

- Transphobic bullying or harassment could include repeatedly challenging someone's gender identity or transition, questioning which facilities they use, mis-gendering or dead naming (calling someone by their birth name after they have changed their name) someone.

F. Dignity at Work Policy sets out the Welsh Government's processes for dealing with unwanted behaviour, bullying and harassment, both via the informal and formal routes. The Annexes contain a flowchart on how we deal with Dignity at Work complaints, and set out the roles and responsibilities of all involved. Annexes F & G set out what an individual needs to do to report an incident and how it will be handled.

1.3 Where the organisation has the following family and leave policies, do they use gender-neutral language and explicitly state that they are applicable regardless of gender? Tick all that apply.

Guidance:

- The policies should explicitly state that they apply regardless of the employee or the employee's partner's gender.

- C. Maternity Policy
- D. Paternity Policy
- E. Shared Parental Leave Policy

F. None of the above

Upload the selected policies.

Provide a brief description of the policy/policies you have uploaded (max. 200 words).

A. Maternity & Adoption Leave Policy Para 2 explains that our suite of family policies “allow fathers/co-parents or partners to have a more active role in childcare following birth or adoption”. Para 6 states “Whilst every effort has been made to use inclusive language in this policy, please note that in recognition of the laws and regulations surrounding pregnancy rights in the UK and the likely expectations of the majority of our pregnant employees, this document does contain some gendered terms. Where such terms appear in the guidance, they should be taken as applying equally to trans or non-binary parents.” The policy uses the term “partner” throughout.

Intranet:

<https://documents.hf.wales.gov.uk/id:A634058/document/versions/published>

B. Special Leave Policy The policy statement says “All our policies are fully inclusive of all staff regardless of age, marriage and civil partnership (both same sex and opposite sex), pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation, whether they have an impairment or health condition, are neurodivergent or use British Sign Language, their gender identity or gender expression. We acknowledge that the terms ‘gender identity’ and ‘gender expression’ are not protected characteristics as defined by the Equality Act 2010, however, we believe that Government policy which includes provision for those persons who identify within the ‘trans’ umbrella (rather than on the basis of binary gender) is a more inclusive approach and one which ensures the Welsh Ministers are in a position to comply with all their statutory duties related to equality and the promotion of well-being in Wales.”

Where special leave is sought for family care or bereavement, the policy makes clear that it applies equally to those in a same sex marriage, civil partnership, cohabitation or close relationship. It uses non gendered terms e.g. spouse, partner, sibling, child.

Intranet:

<https://documents.hf.wales.gov.uk/id:A628328/document/versions/published>

1.3C Maternity & Adoption Leave Policy As for 1.3A above

The policy statement also says that it applies equally regardless of sexual orientation and gender identity or expression.

Intranet:

<https://documents.hf.wales.gov.uk/id:A634068/document/versions/published>

1.3E Shared Parental Leave Policy The policy uses gender neutral terms. It uses the same statement for gender neutral as the Maternity/Adoption Leave policy. It uses the terms partner and co-parent throughout.

1.6 Does the organisation have a formal commitment to introduce gender-neutral facilities in all its buildings?

Guidance:

- If gender-neutral facilities are not already available in all buildings, this should be a formal commitment to introduce gender-neutral facilities in any new builds or to gender-neutral facilities being a requirement of any new leases.
- This should be a commitment that's signed off by senior leaders and published internally.
- Provision of gender-neutral facilities should be in addition to accessible facilities.

Yes

No

Provide a brief description of the organisation's current provision, its commitment to introducing gender-neutral facilities and how this has been formalised (max. 500 words).

We have a "Gender Neutral and Accessible Toilets Policy" which states:

"3.2. Gender neutral toilets meet the needs of people who feel uncomfortable using gender specific toilets and can be used by everyone, whether they identify as male, female or non binary.

3.3 A pilot of gender neutral toilets in Aberystwyth and in one toilet in Llandudno Junction was welcomed by staff and others who used the buildings.

3.4 There are some other single user (non-accessible) toilets across the estate and consideration will also be given to introducing more single user toilets where practicable as part of future refurbishment or new building projects.

3.5 Gender specific multi user toilets will continue to be used in offices and we trust staff to decide which gender specific toilet is suitable for them. Our Transitioning Policy guidelines state ‘Employees undergoing transitioning should use the facilities of their acquired gender from the first day that they present in that gender. Employees cannot be asked to use alternative facilities, such as the ‘accessible toilet.’”

The policy is dated 2017. Since then we have the following number of gender neutral facilities in our four main offices, all of which are in addition to our accessible facilities:

Aberystwyth 18; Llandudno Junction 4; Merthyr 0 but will install at least 1 in the 2022/23 financial year; Cathays Park 5 with a further 3 by June 2023.

Describe how you scrutinised the provision and what the actions were. Please provide specific dates or time periods within the last three years.

Welsh Government uses 3 external organisations to provide our Employee Assistance Programme (EAP); our Occupational Health Services and Cognitive behavioural therapy (CBT).

The WG contract manager meets regularly with each to review the contract and services provided. Equality, diversity & inclusion is a regular topic of discussion. Their Equality & Diversity policies have been scrutinized, so too their E&D training & development provision. Each organization has been asked for updates on LGBT+ inclusion in their service provision (in March 2022).

Our Employee Assistance Programme (EAP) is provided by Care First. They take the issue of Equality, Diversity and Inclusion extremely seriously. Their internal equality and diversity lead also sits on the Priory Group's equality and diversity committee and is also responsible for any issues relating to safeguarding.

Care First has a programme of continual professional development led by their Clinical Director, who most recently provided LGBTQ training to their counselling team during the summer of 2021.

Information to any caller requiring support around issues identified as LGBTQ+ are generally provided as part of a counsellors' original training. Counsellors are trained to be non judgmental and to accept people as they are and where they are in their lives. They have counsellors on the helpline and associates on their network with particular experience of this client group. Individuals can ask at the helpline to speak with a counsellor experienced with their particular concern if they wish to and Care First will organise support for them.

Welsh Government staff meet regularly with our EAP providers at Care First and a meeting on 21 April 2021 to discuss Care First Employee Assistance Programs included discussions on E&D, including LGBT+ specific training.

Our Occupational Health service is provided by Insight Workplace Health. They are committed to equality and diversity for all characteristics both internally as an organisation and for all that they engage with. All of their staff undergo equality and diversity training as part of their induction, which covers all aspects of equality and diversity including LGBTQ equality and inclusion. This training is repeated every 3 years. The company also reviews its equality and diversity policy annually.

Their clinicians have all completed up to date accredited first aid for mental health training which addresses mental health issues specific to the LGBTQ community. As SOM members (Society of Occupational Health) the clinicians are provided with the most up to date advice regarding equality and diversity and the effect on mental health.

In addition to this they employ a specialist mental health team including a Consultant Clinical Psychologist and a registered RMN, who regularly deliver specialist internal training for all other clinicians. They have developed a clinical protocol to practice when dealing with trans individuals. All clinicians are registered with either the NMC or GMC which mandates CPD for purpose of revalidation. As an organisation, they are accredited with the Faculty of Occupational Medicine (FOM) SEQOHS standards (a benchmark quality for occupational health services) and are revalidated annually. They are also accredited by COHPA and abide by their code of conduct which specifically stipulates they must operate with best equality and diversity practices.

TCS provides our CBT. As an organization, they are committed to championing the rights of all people because they are often a safe place for people to bring their vulnerabilities and struggles. Their role is to promote mental health and to support all people with psychological, emotional and mental health issues no matter the reason. TCS is committed to supporting the mental health of all individuals and to make it clear that they will not collude with or support any behaviour or attitude which disrespects any other person.

Carer's Policy? Check with Policy Team if any others

Provide a brief description of the policy/policies you have uploaded (max. 150 words).

All new HR policies are equality impact assessed for their impact on protected groups, including LGBT+. Staff networks (including PRISM) are invited to contribute. The Carer's Policy (uploaded) sets out the support available for colleagues with caring responsibilities for dependents. It makes clear that it applies equally to all, regardless of age, marriage and civil partnership (both same sex and opposite sex), pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation, their gender identity or gender expression. This policy defines dependents including "a spouse or partner, including same sex husband or wife, partner or civil partner; parent.. someone who lives with the carer....." The policy states "Our policy also includes in this definition carers who provide support during the transition phase of gender reassignment."

The following question is for information gathering purposes only and is not scored.

1.9 Are the organisation's compassionate and/or special leave policies inclusive of loved ones/chosen families/close support networks and supporting someone through transition?

Guidance:

- Chosen families are people who an employee considers to be family, but who have no legal or biological connection to them.
- Chosen families, loved ones and close support networks can be particularly significant to those who are estranged from their families, an issue that disproportionately affects LGBT people.
- Policies should be clear that employees are entitled to the same leave when it relates to their loved ones/chosen family/close support networks as when it relates to their biological or legal family members.
- Special leave policies should explicitly include provision to support someone through transition, for example accompanying them to medical appointments.

Yes

No

Copy and paste the relevant sections of your policies.

Special Leave Policy 6.2.2 The nature of the relationship of the sick or deceased relative or dependant will be a major consideration and in most cases the relative will be closely related to the officer by blood, same or different sex marriage or civil partnership. The definition of closely related does not normally include aunts, uncles or cousins or spouse/partner's grandparents. Paid special leave would not normally be available to attend the funeral of a friend, colleague or a distant relative. The granting of special leave need not, however, be confined only to cases where a relative by blood, same or different sex marriage or civil partnership is involved, since equal distress may be suffered in other circumstances where, for example, a stable relationship exists, especially between two individuals who reside together though they are related neither by same or different sex marriage or civil partnership nor blood.

Section 2: The Employee Lifecycle

It also contains the Stonewall logos.

All new starters are required to attend our Induction training programme. The course is mandatory and line managers are required to ensure that all members of staff have completed it within 3 months of joining the organisation. Since the Covid pandemic, we have adapted our induction programme which is now done virtually via Microsoft Teams. New starters are given an Induction Pack on their first day of employment, which supports them through the first 3 months. The pack contains useful links and information as well as the training that needs to be undertaken. The Induction training includes a session on the Equality Act 2010, the Public Sector Equality Duty and E,D & I generally. A member of the Equality in the Workplace Team attends each Induction Training programme to talk more specifically about us being an inclusive employer, our E, D & I policies and strategy and the support we provide to staff. This includes our commitment to LGBT+ inclusion, including bi, non-binary and trans inclusion. Our staff networks also have a slot to inform new joiners about their existence, what they do and how to join (as a member or an ally).

- A. Yes
- B. No

Describe how non-binary identities are recognised on workplace systems, including at least two examples (max. 500 words).

We don't currently have systems in place for non-binary recognition in all of our workplace systems.

APPOINT & SNOWDROP – latest position on procurement exercise

We have the option to use the gender neutral title Mx on our recruitment system. Our Business Directory has a free-text field for titles so staff can input the title they want (or not use a title at all).

Gender fluid staff can request 2 security passes if they wish, although only one can be active at any time. Staff wishing to do so should contact the Equality in the Workplace Team who will liaise with Facilities and Security. The security passes have a name and photograph on them, with no reference to gender.

2.5 Does the organisation provide all-employee training on compliance with its discrimination, bullying and harassment policies, including the following:

Guidance:

- The training should reach as many employees as possible across your organisation.
