

Qualifications Wales update

8th June 2021 Global Futures Steering Group meeting

The consultation on which GCSEs and other qualifications should be available to support the new curriculum is now closed. We are carefully reviewing all responses and will report in the autumn on our decisions.

We had over 1,200 responses in total from a wide range of stakeholders, with many coming directly from learners. Once we have decided on which GCSE subjects are needed, we will be coming back out to seek views and ideas on how the content and assessment of each subject should be designed.

We'll give regular updates on our website over the summer as this work progresses.

Look out for opportunities to get involved. If you're interested in supporting this work, then please do get in touch on comms@qualificationswales.org
