Dear [Redacted s40(2)]

Thank you for your email of 29 September addressed to Welsh Government regarding GPs in the Cynon valley, or around Abercynon and Pontypridd area, that can dispense ADHD medication and take on shared care patients. I have been asked to reply on this occasion and I am sorry for the delay in doing so.

The Welsh Government does not hold this information. Health boards are responsible for the assessment and diagnosis of neurodevelopmental conditions, such as ADHD, and this includes the recognition of private assessments.

In the first instance, I recommend you contact your health board for further assistance. Their contact details can be found here: Contact Us - Cwm Taf Morgannwg University Health Board

The national citizen voice body Llais is also available to provide support and can be contacted at: Cwm Taf Morgannwg | LLais

I hope this information is helpful.

Yours sincerely,

Tîm Busnes y Llywodraeth | Government Business Team
