

Hi [REDACTED]

Thanks for getting back in touch. No problem at all and fully appreciate your position with this – was just an initial idea given we had gaps in the Insights schedule and thus hoping to kill two birds with one stone (sorry!).

We've tried a couple of researchers to ask if they could present their research but unfortunately, they are not in a position to present. However, they have already started to provide some background to relevant research which we'll collate.

I'll start the more formal call amongst the researchers this week and see what else is forthcoming.

Best wishes,

[REDACTED]

Subject: RE: Gamebird Licensing - call for evidence

Hi [REDACTED]

Thanks for this.

I hadn't picked up on the ask for someone from WG to provide a presentation setting out the issues. Whilst normally we as WG would of course support the insights sessions with presentations we don't feel it would be appropriate for this subject areas as we are trying to ensure this phase of work is as independent as possible and we wouldn't want

I have had some responses back from a preliminary message I sent to some of our researchers with [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] (both Cardiff) indicating their involvement in gamebird issues.

If the 4th March option isn't a runner, I can put out a more formal (email) call for evidence in the next few days and then perhaps supplement this with the presentation on 25th March.

Perhaps converse further on Monday.

Best wishes,

[REDACTED]

Afternoon [REDACTED]

Could I pick your brains please? We've been asked to give an update on the call for evidence. Would it be possible to give a short narrative on the academic discussion proposed for the 4th March and the proposed call for evidence launch which I think you mentioned would be the following week?

Your thoughts would be appreciated.

Regards
